Today in the Quad-Cities Still seek school aid override

Recessing Thursday afternoon until Nov. 3, Illinois legislators plan to try again to override Gov. Daniel Walker's school aid fund reduction.

With 88 votes needed in the 177-member House of Representatives, override advocates mustered only 86 votes Thursday, including those of Rep. Joe Lucco, Edwardsville Democrat, and new Rep. Sam Wolf, Granite City Democrat.

Among the identical number of 86 voting to sustain the governor's stand were Rep. Everett Steele, Glen Carbon Republican, and Rep. Monroe Filim, Cahokia Democrat.

Gov. Walker used vetoes during the summer to reduce by $140 million the state funds for elementary and secondary schools. Critics said the late timing of the action disrupted the school districts' planning because 1975-76 financial commitments already had been made. They are trying to restore $81 million.

The governor said that despite the cutback the $1,553,000,000 to be distributed is $100 million more than in 1974-75. But the Illinois Education

Diversion of funds assailed and defended

Diversion of $200,000 from the Illinois Transportation, Mental Health and Public Aid Departments was charged Saturday by the Better Government Association, which said the funds were used to equip a color television studio utilized by Governor Daniel Walker.

The diversion allegedly included $10,000 in state food stamp funds spent for video tape recording accessories.

The Illinois Information Service studio is on the third floor of the old State Waterways Building across from the Capitol.

J. Terrence Brunner, BGA executive director, said, "The governor cannot find funds for education but he uses public money to conduct a personal public relations campaign. This is an intolerable abuse of power."

A Walker spokesman said it is cheaper for the state to make TV informational films than to hire commercial studios.

"It's taped Gov. Walker each day during the 1975 state fair in Springfield and sent video tapes designed to promote Walker to TV stations by courier," Brunner said.

"It also has begun a service allowing Downstate radio and TV stations to call in questions

Bestie strike settled

A 15-week strike at the Nestle Co., Inc. plant in Granite City ended Friday in a vote by striking workers to accept a three-year working agreement offered by the company.

The employees, members of Machinists District 9, voted 71 to 56 to accept a contract providing a 9 per cent wage increase this year, an 8 per cent increase in 1976 and an 8 per cent increase in 1977.

Roger Higgins, plant manager, said that all plant employees will begin a two-week vacation schedule today to permit maintenance work necessary to prepare the plant for production.

Full production will be resumed Nov. 10, Higgins said.

Neither Higgins nor Wilbert N. Hemken, business representative of Machinists District 9, would discuss changes in fringe benefits resulting from negotiations between the union and the company. Hemken said the agreement accepted in Friday's voting at the Machinists Center at Alton represented improvements over the company's original offer.

Hemken said the strike involved approximately 150 workers, slightly less than the number that went on strike July 12. He said between 10 and 15 members of the union obtained employment elsewhere during the strike.

Negotiators for the two sides met Aug. 7 and Aug. 28 with Charles Hutchinson of the U. S. Conciliation and Mediation Service, St. Louis, but the meetings failed to alter the company's original proposal.

That offer was rejected by the membership on three occasions.

The prolonged strike had sparked concern that Nestle may consider moving its operations out of the Quad-City area and the company cited high sewage treatment rates, excessive state air pollution control requirements and other factors as reasons for considering such a move.

Patronage invasion of civil jobs alleged

Fourteen claims technicians employed at the Granite City office of the Illinois Unemployment Compensation Division have joined in a nationwide protest of what they contend are "political patronage appointments" of new employees without regard to regular civil service eligibility lists.

Similar protests were made during the weekend by employees of the unemployment compensation claims offices in Edwardsville, Alton, Belleville and East St. Louis.

Staff members said they object to assignment of workers on orders of Gov. Dan Walker to jobs as intermittent claims technician I in claims offices not only in this region, but throughout the state as well.

Two such employees were assigned to the Granite City office last week after Jerome Wade, manager of the office, was requisitioned for two additional claims takers, according to a spokesman for the state workers, who asked that her name not be used.

The spokesmen said the two women appeared at the office hearing letters appointing them to the two posts to be filled.

She said she did not know who had signed the letters, but it was learned the orders were made "through Gov. Walker's political patronage organization."

Neither of the two newly-assigned workers qualified for the posts as civil service workers and neither had taken civil service examinations, the spokesman alleged.

She said that workers in the claims offices are supposed to be assigned out of a civil service pool of persons who qualified for that particular type of work through examinations.

Staff members in Granite City and other regional offices sent a letter of protest to their respective office managers who met in Litchfield Friday. The meeting reportedly was not called as a direct result of the patronage issue.

In addition, letters and telegrams were sent by the workers to Alan J. Dixon, state treasurer and Democratic candidate for governor against Walker in next year's state primary election, and to state senators and legislators of this region.

Letters also were sent to Cong. Melvin Price (D-East St. Louis) at Washington.

Venice Town to compete to retain Benjamin area

Steps to provide further service in the Benjamin Addition, a residential area of approximately 600 persons just outside the Northwest Granite City limits, have been taken by Venice Township, with fire protection as the priority improvement, Christ Pashoff, Venice Township supervisor, said Friday.

Pashoff said the Venice Town Board has approved a plan that would include a street lighting program and installation of a playground, possibly with a tennis court, as well as leadership in procedures under new state law to provide fire protection to the area.

Townships lack full municipal powers, however.

Residents of the area have become concerned over fire protection as the result of a fire Oct. 13 that destroyed the home of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Tinsley, 2833 Logan Ave. The blaze threatened the life of the Tinsleys' 4-year-old daughter until the child was rescued by neighbors.

Two other homes were damaged extensively in that fire, and other residents said they stood by fearing that their homes also would burn.

Granite City firemen answered the call, although the area is outside the city limits and firemen are bound by a city ordinance not to answer calls outside the city, and extinguish the fire.

"The people in this area need improvements and the township is ready to provide them," Pashoff said.

A move to annex the Benjamin area to Granite City is being studied by the city following the filing last week of petitions for annexation by nine families of the area.

As a result of the petitions, Mayor Paul Schuler said that a public meeting will be held in the area soon to outline to the residents what their costs in taxes would be, and the advantages they would receive from fire protection, sewer service, police patrols and other city services.

Supervisor Pashoff said that township officials also are planning a public meeting to discuss the improvement

New bank to proceed

Paul H. Lichtenberger, chairman of the organizing committee of the proposed Colonial Bank of Granite City, Lichtenberger said, "and we announced today that sale of the 40,000 shares of capital stock has virtually been completed."

"The organizers have set aside a limited number of shares to take care of any last-minute demands."

"Further information regarding the shares can be obtained by calling 452-1313, Extension 59," Lichtenberger said.

Notices are being mailed to the subscribers calling for payment on their subscriptions and calling for a meeting of all subscribers on Friday, Nov. 7, at 7:30 p.m.

The meeting will be held at the Nameoki Recreation Center, Pontoon Road and Franklin Avenue.

At this meeting, a board of directors will be elected to manage the affairs of the bank, it was announced.

"There have been numerous delays in complying with all the requirements necessary for the chartering of a new bank," Lichtenberger said, "and we are extremely happy to be able to make this announcement."

The new bank will be located on the southeast corner of the intersection of Pontoon and Maryville Roads.

Present plans are to open in temporary quarters in late winter or early spring.

"Construction will be started on a new building as soon as possible."

"Negotiations are now under way for the hiring of a chief executive officer," Lichtenberger told the Press-Record. Other members of the organizing group are: Carl A. Ranft, executive manager, Tri-City Port Authority; John W. Reese, president, Reese Drug Stores; Henry W. Ross, president, Ross Construction Co.; Jon Tarpoff, president, Tarpoff Packing Co.; and Dr. George T. Wilkins Jr., Granite City physician.

First hotel is recalled

Second article by Mrs. Georgia Engleke on the history of the local community, originally known as "Six Mile Prairie."

First non-Indian settlers in Six Mile Prairie located here in 1801.

The Wiggins family settled locally and an unmarried man, Patrick Hanniberry, resided with them.

They lived on the north side of Horseshoe Lake.

Later, a hotel called the "Six Mile House" was built near the Wiggins home.

It was so called because it was six miles from the hotel to St. Louis.

In 1804, Nathan Carpenter built a horse mill near the Wiggins settlement and it was the first industry of Six Mile Prairie.

After James Gilliam settled on Long Lake here, he wrote to his family in South Carolina.

His father, Thomas Gilliam, the first of the family, had come to America from Ireland in 1780. He had 11 children—seven sons and four daughters.

He and his seven sons and two sons-in-law served in the War for Independence, subject of the current U.S. Bicentennial observances.

Five of his sons and two of his daughters came to Illinois and settled in this immediate area. By 1805, Thomas, John and William were residents of Six Mile Prairie.

Later, William moved to Jerseyville and John settled in Wanda.

Isaac Gilliam arrived in 1805. He settled on the land along what is now Route 162, northwest of Horseshoe Lake. The Gilliam family was the most numerous one in this area.

Corn was as low as five cents a bushel and wheat 25 cents. Beef and pork were 14 cents per pound.

Then there was the struggle with the malaria fever, recurring periodically and

Triple Lodge 835 honors John Barks

Special honors were bestowed upon John Wesley Barks of Granite City, lodge instructor and advisor for Masonic Triple Lodge 835, AF&AM, and a former officer, by the members during a meeting at the Masonic Temple.

Worshipful Master Martin Love presided at the meeting and introduced right worshipful grand lecturer, Gene Ross, who spoke briefly on the "proficiency certificate" designed to instill in the young officers a desire to achieve proficiency in the ritual of the craft.

Ross added that such a program requires dedicated effort on the part of the lodge instructor to achieve the intended results.

The members approved a resolution of appreciation to Barks.

He then read congratulatory letters written to Mr. Barks from Grand Lodge officers, Earl M. Potter, Albert W. Gylden, Vance C. VanTassel, Paul R. Stephens, and a card from Wood River Lodge 1062.

Remarks also were given by members during the meeting to the guest of honor.

At the conclusion of the session, Gene Ross presented Mr. Barks with a plaque engraved with the honoree's Masonic History and dates of service to the Grand Lodge.

Mr. Barks served as worshipful master for the lodge in 1944 and was commissioned a right worshipful grand lecturer in 1945.

He served the Grand Lodge of Illinois, AF&AM, as right worshipful district deputy grand master from 1951 to 1954; as worshipful grand standard bearer in 1960 and as worshipful grand pursuivant 1971 to 1975.

Contractor sentenced on tax charge

James E. Opel, Edwardsville, has been sentenced to one-year probation by Judge Harrington Wood Jr., at Springfield for failing to file a federal employment tax return for the Opel Construction Co., Edwardsville, for the quarter ending June 30, 1975.

Opel had previously pleaded guilty to one count of a four-count indictment. At the time of sentencing, the remaining three counts were dismissed.

The criminal information filed by the U.S. attorney's office on June 9, 1975, charged Opel with four counts of willfully failing to file federal employment tax returns for the quarters ending Dec. 31, 1972, through Sept. 30, 1973.

Assistant U. S. Attorney Elijah Richardson handled the case for the government. The case was developed by special agents of the Internal Revenue Service.

Change Social Security office phone number

District Manager William E. Kerr of the Social Security Office located at 650 Missouri Ave., East St. Louis, has announced a change in the telephone numbers in that office. The new number is 274-4100, effective Oct. 27.

Kerr says that with the new phone system, the Social Security Administration will be able to provide better service to the public.

"Since over 75 per cent of all Social Security business can be handled by phone, this becomes an important part of our day-to-day operation," he commented.

IRS office aids area taxpayers

Assistance will be available from 8 a.m. to 11:30 a.m. and from 12 noon to 4:30 p.m. Virginia Kirchner, manager of the Alton IRS office, says the office is located at 501 Belle St.

Taxpayers who need immediate answers to their tax questions may call the toll-free telephone number, 800-252-2921. This toll-free telephone service is available from any location within the state, any work day Monday through Friday, between 8 a.m. and 4:45 p.m.

Rekindling 'Spirit of '76' urged by Howlett

Mayors and municipal government leaders have a leadership role to play in rekindling love for America during the Bicentennial of U.S. Independence, Michael J. Howlett, secretary of state, said last night.

Howlett addressed the Southern Illinois Mayors Association at a dinner meeting in the Elks Club at Lawrenceville.

He presented a $500 U.S. savings bond to Carla Peas, 17, of Norris City, a runner up in the statewide Bicentennial Essay Contest sponsored by Howlett. The grand prize winner was Don Bishop, 14, of Litchfield.

"Our contest had three divisions - red, for grades one through four; white, for grades five through eight, and blue for the high school grades," said Howlett. "Carla, a high school junior, finished in a tie for winner in the blue division."

More than 300,000 Illinois boys and girls participated in the essay contest. More than 400,000 entered the contest our office sponsored last year to design the Bicentennial Year license plate.

"We have another contest under way to select 76 men and women in Illinois' past who have contributed the most to the heritage of our state and nation."

"I appeal to every mayor in Illinois to nominate men and women whom you admire for their achievement. Contest rules require that nominees no longer be living but were born in Illinois or resided here at some time."

"At all levels of government, exciting events have been planned to remind us of our heritage."

"The U.S. mint is putting out a Bicentennial quarter, with a Revolutionary War drummer on it; a Bicentennial half dollar, with Independence Hall; and a Bicentennial dollar coin, with Washington, to Jamestown, to Williamsburg, to Philadelphia, to Boston, to historic sites of colonial times."

"At the local level, municipalities around Illinois are planning projects of their own. It is an opportunity for mayors to lead in dedicating our people again to our basic values."

"Southern Illinois is where our state started. Kaskaskia was our first Capital. The capture of Kaskaskia by George Rogers Clark and his men during the Revolution secured what is now Illinois for the colonists."

Anonymous bomb threat at plant

At 4:40 p.m. Thursday, an anonymous caller informed Bob Bierer, personnel manager at American Steel Foundries, that a bomb was in the plant and set to explode that day. A search failed to turn up a bomb.

Step up work on claims for unemployment compensation

The Illinois Bureau of Employment Security, Division of Unemployment Insurance, is making efforts to speed the issuance of unemployment insurance checks, and workers can assist the bureau to expedite payments, according to Jerome P. Wade, manager of the Unemployment Insurance office, 1800 Cleveland Blvd.

Wade said that claims should be filed on the first day following the last day of work, and if such last day of work occurs on a Friday, the worker should report the following Monday morning to his nearest bureau office, in person, to establish his claim.

New Illinois claims must be filed in person, and the claim is always effective the first day of the week in which the worker reports, providing he meets eligibility requirements.

Venice town

program proposed by the township.

Territory annexed by the city would leave Venice Township, reducing the latter's tax base.

Pashoff said that under House Bill 2666 introduced by State Rep. Everett Steele (R-Glen Carbon) and passed by the General Assembly this year, unincorporated areas will be assigned to fire protection districts nearest them to provide protection.

While this does not become effective until Jan. 1, preliminary steps already have been taken to arrange fire protection for the Benjamin area, Pashoff said.

The supervisor said he has conferred with James Ray, chief of the Collinsville Fire Department, who will be in charge of the new state program in Madison County. He said Ray informed him that the Mitchell Fire Department likely would be assigned to protect the Benjamin Addition.

As a preliminary step, Venice Township has negotiated with the East St. Louis & Interurban Water Co. to install a fire hydrant in a centralized location of the subdivision, Pashoff said.

The hydrant is to be installed under a 30-year lease between the water company and the township, with the township paying $49.50 per year for the hydrant and water used.

Pashoff said that arrangements are being completed with Illinois Power Co. to install between 38 and 46 street lights in the subdivision under a lease arrangement by which the township will pay $6 per month per light.

The cost of the water bill for the fire hydrants is to be paid out of federal revenue sharing funds, while the cost of the lighting system billing would be shared by the township's revenue sharing fund and the Community Development Fund, the supervisor said.

Venice Township officials are to meet Oct. 31 with members of the Granite City Board of Education, Pashoff said, to request location of playground equipment at Logan School. Standard equipment would be installed if approval is given, the supervisor said, and a tennis court would be built if a location is available.

The playground and tennis court would be financed with revenue sharing and Community Development Funds, he added.

Failure to file a claim in person on the first day of unemployment may result in the loss of benefits or delay in the issuance of unemployment insurance checks.

Anyone with questions may contact the local Unemployment Insurance office in person to ensure no loss of benefits.

School aid

Office says that 434 of the 1,045 school districts will receive less state aid than before.

Walker said full funding would force a state tax increase.

Opponents of the governor's cutback said schools should be given the financing initially scheduled, and that elimination of "wasteful practices" by the state administration could enable the state budget to be balanced.

The State Board of Education on Thursday recommended that the state legislature clear the way for the state education office to pay school districts each month one-twelfth of their total (full) state aid entitlement as long as state funds are available.

The board further stated its intentions of requesting a supplemental appropriation later in the year if funds are then available.

The legislative action is necessary, according to the board, to allow school districts to receive a larger check each month until funds run out, rather than pre-paying the lesser amount left after the governor's amendments.

This way, the board reasoned, districts would have the money sooner and could avoid the extra costs of interim borrowing.

No promises were made that additional state money would be available later in the year; however, the board motion said that if funds are available, the board will seek a supplemental appropriation.

The board further reaffirmed its earlier position that the veto of Senate Bill 1483 be overridden and $22 million be appropriated for local districts rather than a "solid harmonious" proposal, which they said runs counter to the equalization principle.

They also asked that the governor and legislature "approve sufficient monies to finance teacher hearing officer laws, the supervision of private career schools, renovation of unsafe school facilities, and elimination of sex discrimination."

The Illinois Education Association labeled the defeat of the initial effort to override Gov. Walker's education budget vetoes in the Illinois House as "the terrible consequences of the political maneuvering between Gov. Walker-Daley and Gov. Walker."

Dr. Curtis Platt, IEA executive secretary, said, "The Walker-Daley squabble has produced a lot of press but no benefits for the schools of the state. It's a pity that education became the first victim of election year infighting."

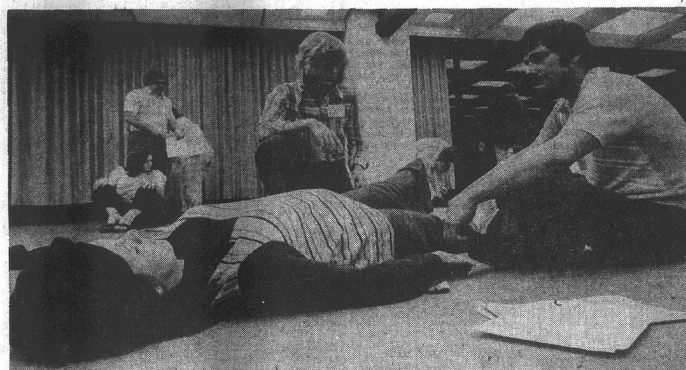

Platt urged both to "think mediation instead of confrontation. Push politics aside," he urged, "and let's get back to the business of carrying out the constitutional mandate for high quality education."

Platt predicted a sharp rise in local-level property taxes as a result of the defeat, which came in the form of a postponement in the House, and said Illinois taxpayers now have to face "a severely crippled education system."

He said thousands of teachers "put up a valiant fight to secure the overrides, but their campaign was limited to phone calls and letter writing, because school boards would not release them to come to Springfield to directly confront legislators."

He said such boards are now woefully lamenting those directions. "District programs will be hurt because they kept the most powerful lobbying group at home."

Platt said rumblings concerning the possibility of a veto override being passed in November are "premature and not very hopeful."

Show patriotism, Price says in Veterans Day talk at Arlington National Cemetery

In a Veterans Day weekend speech at Arlington National Cemetery Saturday, Cong. Melvin Price (Dem., 23rd Ill.) stressed the patriotism of the individual American to his country.

At the invitation of President Gerald Ford, who requested that Rep. Price represent him, Cong. Price addressed the 13th annual Memorial Service of the Improved Order of Red Men at the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier.

The Order is a fraternal society founded in 1765, its 70,000 members professing the goal of "fostering freedom, friendship and charity."

The Society is active in programs to improve the welfare of the American Indian and to assist the blind and learning disabled.

After laying a wreath at the Tomb, Cong. Price, head of the House Armed Services Committee, discussed what he called a "grassroots change in the recent negativism of some Americans."

"For too many years, it was unfashionable and unpopular to demonstrate patriotism in this country."

"It was considered bad form to voice any pride in, or enthusiasm for, the remarkable achievements of this great land."

"But now, as chairman of the Armed Services Committee, I am beginning to see a change in the thinking of many of our citizens — and this change is being reflected in the thoughts and actions of Congress."

"We stand here today before the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier, to pay homage to those who died so that the republic might live," he continued.

"But I submit that there is a much larger group of unknown soldiers in America today — people whose dedication to freedom, friendship and charity has turned the tide of negativism and whose actions have provided the impetus for America to emerge from the bitter years stronger than ever."

"Let us continue to work together for a free, proud and just nation," Cong. Price concluded.

"Let us never give any grounds for it to be said that these young men resting here and in uncounted graves around the world died in vain."

"Our debt to them can never be repaid. But, together, let's come as close as we can."

Legislators earlier reduced Information Service funds, contending performance has been too political.

State Treasurer Alan J. Dixon, a candidate for the Democratic nomination for governor, accused Walker during the weekend of "taking food from the mouths of hungry people and money away from the mentally ill, to try and sell himself on television as a political candidate who cares about the poor and disadvantaged."

Gov. Walker at Peoria on Sunday said charges against him are irresponsible and that the expenditures were "valid."

Treas. Dixon said the fund diversion by the executive branch was "a disgrace and an inhumane act." He called for state and federal investigations.

Citizen Band (CB) radios were taken from two vehicles belonging to students who live at Tower Lake Apartments. Brendon L. Klein reported a CB mobile transceiver valued at $150 was taken from his car Tuesday night, and the CB antenna on his car was taken Wednesday night. The antenna was valued at $25.

'Vicious' vandals cut tires

A wave of window soapings and flat tires in the downtown Granite City area last night, served as a grim reminder that Halloween, and its accompanying vandalism, will be this week.

Police were receiving reports this morning of numerous windows soaped and damage to the tires on about 16 cars in the downtown area.

Some of the tires only had air let out, but others had been punctured or slashed, officers said, indicating a trend toward viciousness.

Youths are being reminded that Halloween "pranks" often qualify in the eyes of the law, as criminal damage to property or vandalism, both of which can carry jail terms or heavy fines.

Quad-City area police departments report they are keeping "an extra close eye on any suspicious activities" and will not hesitate to make arrests in vandalism cases.

Madison County Sheriff John Maeras has announced that his department is using volunteer civilian patrols to alert the sheriff's department of suspicious activities in some unincorporated areas of the county.

Who should have a Trust?

Nearly everyone. The solid financial planning which a trust provides benefits you and your family both now and in the future.

A trust arrangement should be explored if you have:

- purchased life insurance;
- bought your own home;
- accumulated personal property;
- maintained a savings account; or
- invested in pension or profit sharing plans.

As you can see, just about everyone should consider a trust — more than likely, you should.

Young or old, you'll find that a trust brings security for your children, and assures that your financial interests are being managed carefully if you become physically unable to handle them yourself.

Sound easy? It is. Simply call First Granite City National Bank — experts you can trust.

marked by successive "cold, hot and sweating" fits. The early settlers knew this was an unhealthy area at that time, before modern scientific and medical knowledge had emerged. Someone once called it a graveyard.

The Gilleams were devout Methodists. Church services were held in the home of Thomas Gilleam.

A school was built near the Wiggins home as early as 1805. It was taught by Edward Humphrey.

By 1817, these early settlers had decided to call their settlement "The Six Mile Prairie," noting that this was about the distance to St. Louis on the National Road.

This included what is called Venice today because this entire area was so intimately associated with the pioneers and their joint endeavors and aspirations.

The original precinct was designated as the "Old Six Mile" and included all of the present Quad-City incorporated and unincorporated area.

By 1818, the Illinois Territory had the minimum population of 40,000 required for admission to the Union.

Admission of the state of Illinois occurred on Dec. 3, 1818, six years after a vast territory known as Madison County had been established.

The county, which celebrated its 150th anniversary in September 1962, was reduced in size at various times before reaching its present boundaries as one of the 102 counties in Illinois.

Kaskaskia was selected as the first state capital in 1818, and in 1820 the state offices were moved to Vandalia.

The National Road was constructed by the federal government. It was begun in 1811 in the state of Maryland.

It was expected that the construction would continue to St. Louis. By 1800, it had reached Vandalia, Ill., but it was never finished.

The proposed route had been surveyed through Troy and Six Mile Prairie to St. Louis.

There were toll gates along the National Road at which fees were collected for driving over the road.

Ox teams were used in bringing produce to market, while cattle and hogs were driven on the hoof.

About every ten miles there would be a toll gate. A coach paid a 20-cent fee, a wagon 10 cents, a horse and rider five cents, a cow one cent and a hog, five cents.

After Madison County was organized in 1812, road districts were set up and the "Plank Road" which crossed Six Mile Prairie was begun.

Ox teams eight feet long were cut and laid on stringers. This was a great improvement over "the trace" which the pioneers had traveled on foot or horseback and later in wagons.

But in rainy weather these plank roads sank in mud. Men were appointed as "oversers" of the road.

The National Road terminated at the ferry landing on the banks of the mile-wide Mississippi River.

Matthew Kerr established a horse ferry between Venice and St. Louis, and in 1826 the larger Wiggins ferry was developed.

The National Road was known as the great wagon route that connected the East with the West.

A line of stage coaches running between St. Louis and Terre Haute, Ind., passed over this route.

Horses were changed in Troy, Ill., after leaving St. Louis. Large droves of cattle were driven to Venice and transferred across the river to St. Louis.

CAR PARTS REMOVED
Three front car bumpers, valued at $50 each, a front door, worth $75, and a rear bumper, $35, were stolen from the rear of Andy and Johnny's Body Shop, 2221 W. Pontoon Road, it was reported at 10 p.m. Thursday.

Players present 'ghoulish' musical comedy

Although Halloween officially comes to an end at midnight Friday, the ghosts and goblins have agreed to give the Quad-City area a two-day extension of "ghoulish" entertainment when the East Bank Players present "Dracula, Baby," a musical comedy, on Saturday and Sunday, Nov. 1 and 2, at the Commission of Granite City, 1801 Spruce St.

The stage production is an official performing Arts Event sponsored by the Bicentennial Commission of Granite City. Among the cast members are Dan McGee, portraying Count Dracula; Jim Fensterman, plays the part of Dr. Von Helsing, expert vampire exterminator; Michael Tharp as Dr. Seward, head of the local sanitarium.

John Payne, an original member of East Bank Players, plays the part of Renfield, a kook who loves to eat spiders—"the ones made from real spaghetti, that is".

Beverly Addison will portray Sylvia, the motherly-type witch; and Carmen Byrne plays a nurse who is secretly in love with Dracula.

Chorus members are Ann Scott, Connie Beers, Susan Kelly, Lisa Rudolph, Sacha Lepley, Jim Addington, Steve Phelps, Jeff Lamb, Barbara Modrusis and Paul Guzzardo.

Mrs. Norma Mendoza is directing the play. Musical director for the show is Mrs. Catherine Cassy. Lisa Garcia is choreographer.

Curtain time on Saturday, Nov. 1, will be at 8:15 p.m., while Sunday's performance will begin at 7:15 p.m. Admission tickets cost $2 for adults and $1 for senior citizens, students and children.

Tickets may be obtained from any East Bank Player, by calling Cathy Cassy, at 877-8753, or Bill Dallas, at 877-6686, or by purchasing them at the door on the night of each performance.

Patronage

Granite City and throughout the state is a particularly cynical action in view of the following facts:

"1. Unemployment checks are running up to five months late in many cases, as reported by a devastating federal investigative team, by Time Magazine, and by many applicants.

"2. The backlog was caused to a large extent by political mudling in highly technical matters such as claims processing, management, etc.

"3. Many persons have completed the demanding examination for claims takers' work, are qualified, but are not being put on the payroll to do the job which is overdue—getting the checks out in two weeks as federal guidelines require.

"4. Among those persons actually qualified to straighten out the check mess are needy persons who remain unemployed while untested relatives of politically well-connected persons are hired in as patronage employees in what is supposed to be civil service, by examination.

"Example: A fire chief's wife is one of the suddenly hired new workers, while others who are head of household with no income and are well qualified beg for jobs. And, the public begs for UC checks.

"Once again, our governor has shown his complete contempt for the people of Illinois in a cruel and cynical act, the hiring of patronage employees to further confuse this state's already disastrous unemployment compensation mess.

"I state these conclusions not in my official position but solely as a knowledgeable private citizen," Bowman concluded.

STOLEN AUTO BURNED
A 1972 Ford, owned by Louis Forezena, was found burning in a farmer's field by Madison County deputies at 9 p.m. Thursday. The vehicle was stolen from the Granite City Steel blast furnace parking area.

CAR STOLEN, BURNED
A 1970 auto belonging to Jerry McCabe, 3950 Central Lane, Mitchell, reported stolen at 1:15 a.m. Friday from Chestnut Street, was recovered by Madison County deputies on the south point of the Chain of Rocks Canal levee.

The vehicle had been completely destroyed by fire with exception of the two front tires.

Dewey decimals now century old

The famous "Dewey Decimal System" for classification of library materials is 100 years old. Its birthday will be celebrated at the 21st annual Allerton Library Institute, conducted by the University of Illinois Graduate School of Library Science Nov. 9-12 at Allerton House, the U. of I. conference center near Monticello.

Prof. C. David Batty, Graduate School of Library Science, McGill University, Montreal, Canada, will keynote the institute with "Library Classification—100 Years After Dewey."

Speakers will come from Canada, Britain, and the U. of I. and other institutions in the United States. The year 1876 marked the appearance of a then anonymous publication, "A Classification and Subject Index for Cataloguing and Arranging the Books and Pamphlets of a Library."

The work was later revealed as that of Melvil Dewey. Since then, Dewey's system has had a major impact on library classification and subject retrieval systems throughout the world.

Focus of the Allerton Institute will be on Dewey past, present and future, but other major systems also will be explained and compared.

Ten papers will be presented; the institute then will close with reactions to the papers by a panel of librarians now using Dewey.

Prof. Herbert Goldhor, director of the U. of I. Graduate School of Library Science, has as planning committee members Michael Gorman, visiting lecturer from The British Library, London; Prof. Robert L. Talmadge, director of technical services, U. of I. Library; and Prof. Kathryn Luther Henderson, U. of I. Graduate of Library Science.

New fall schedule at Y

The second fall session of classes at the Tri-City Area YMCA will begin Nov. 3. The major emphasis in the program will be adult fitness.

This is an objective of The National YMCA and has been identified by the local board of directors through consultations as a major need in this community, officials said.

The YMCA will offer exercise classes for both men and women. The noon women's exercise classes on Tuesdays and Thursdays will be conducted by Betty Fuchs. The classes will be conducted from noon to 12:45 p.m.

Genna Norman will conduct evening exercise class for women on Tuesdays and Thursdays from 7 to 8 p.m. Both classes may be followed by a sauna and swim.

The men's exercise class will meet on Mondays, Wednesdays, and Fridays from 5:45 to 6:30 p.m. In charge will be Mike Sharp. The men's classes will concentrate on four areas of fitness: cardiovascular endurance (heart and lungs), flexibility, muscular strength, and muscular endurance. Special attention will be given to deflating "spare tires," Sharp said.

All exercise classes are free to "Y" members and available at day pass rates for non-members.

In addition to organized classes, there are separate schedules for jogging, lap swimming, weight lifting, basketball, volleyball and individual exercise.

For more information on classes or schedule, Quad-Cityans may stop by the Y at 2001 Edison Ave., or call 878-7200. The Y is a United Way agency.

Library Halloween pre-schooler party

By JEANETTE KAMPEN

Reference Librarian at Granite City Public Library Children's Librarian Miss Susan Hardin, GCPL's newest staff member, will be in the Children's Department beginning Oct. 28.

She invites all area children to visit the library in the near future to say, "Hello."

On Tuesday, Oct. 28, Granite City Public Library will have a Halloween party for pre-schoolers at 10 a.m. in the Children's Department. There will be stories, puppets, a film and some surprises.

If they like, the children may attend in costume.

From Oct. 25 to Nov. 1, the theme of the poems and stories on Dial-A-Story is Halloween. If you haven't called Dial-A-Story yet, that would be a good time to begin. The number is 870-6316.

The next meeting of the card collectors' club will be at 3 p.m. on Saturday, Nov. 1. Don't forget to bring your cards.

The Children's Department welcomes visits by groups of children in the community. However, arrangements should be made with the children's librarian first.

NEW ITEMS. GCPL is beginning a cassette collection, and a limited number of radio programs and Voice-Over-Books is available.

The radio programs include such oldtime favorites as "Amos 'n Andy," "Great Kids Shows" and Humphrey Bogart and Lauren Bacall in the Lux Radio Theater presentation of "To Have and Have Not."

Voice-Over-Books cassettes include "Banco — The Further Adventures of Papillon" and "I'm OK — You're OK."

NEW FICTION. Lonnie Coleman's "Orphan Jim" is the story of Trudy and her brother scrambling from an adventure to another as they find their way to survive the Depression in Alabama in 1932.

John Masters' latest fiction work is "The Field Marshal's Memoirs." Field Marshal Sir John Durham, nearing 80 years of age, decides to write his memoirs, resurrecting all the horrors, blunders, calculated mistakes, personal dishonors and political intrigues that were the everyday realities of war and military practice.

Lawyers' median pay $32,105; attorney specializations studied

A survey of Illinois lawyers' opinions toward the future delivery of legal services is being studied by the Illinois State Bar Association.

Questionnaires completed by 8,667 lawyers examine attitudes on group legal plans, enabling members of the group to obtain legal services for a predetermined monthly fee.

Another part of the extensive survey provides economic data on lawyers' fees, income and overhead costs. The entire October edition of the Illinois Bar Journal is devoted to the survey results.

100,000 DRIVERS FAIL

EACH YEAR, over 100,000 licensed drivers fail the state written exam when they are retested. Experts say — "the main reason is, that rules, laws and traffic signs have changed and drivers just don't keep up with all the changes." When your license expires this year, you may be among the over half-million drivers that will be retested. If you're nervous about being re-tested and don't want the embarrassment of failing, here's good news! You can now purchase your own sample test papers complete with the up to date questions, answers and international road signs you must know to pass your test. These test papers have helped thousands pass their test. Send $9.00 plus $2.00 handling (check or money order only.)

recognized or certified as "specialists" in various fields of law. The survey indicates Illinois lawyers are evenly split on whether legal specialties should be instituted.

If a program of specialization is enacted, most of the lawyers surveyed favor "recognition" as the basis for determining lawyers who qualify as specialists.

The alternative would be a system of certification, based on testing, advanced education or other criteria.

"That lawyers specialize is beyond dispute," according to Peter H. Lousberg, chairman of the Illinois State Bar Association Survey Committee.

"The survey indicates that de facto specialization is a fact of life in Illinois."

Only one per cent of the respondents consider themselves solely general practitioners. 48 per cent engage solely in specialized practice, and the other 51 per cent consider themselves general practitioners with one or more specialties.

The lawyers surveyed favor mandatory continuing education by a slim majority (52-48 per cent).

A few states have recently adopted a requirement of 15 hours of continuing education yearly, but the profile of a typical Illinois lawyer, based on survey responses, reveals that the lawyer is annually enrolled in 12 hours of continuing education without the requirement.

Lawyers who favor a system of specialization and lawyers in smaller firms are more inclined to be in favor of mandatory continuing education.

The economic data was compiled by medians, with half of the respondents above and half the respondents below the median figure.

Although wide variations exist, the profiles produce the following "typical" private practitioners:

Chicago Loop - Median age is 42; after 15 years of practice, income is $34,118 (after expenses), and the median work week is 47 hours.

Remainder of Chicago area - Median age is 42; after 16 years of practice, income is $25,000, and work week is 45 hours.

Downtown - Median age is 44; median income after 17 years of practice is $32,105, and the median work week is 47 hours.

For lawyers who use an hourly rate for services billable to a client, the basic rate based on statewide responses is between $40 and $50.

From the gross fee comes overhead costs for operation of the law office, salaries for secretaries, associates and other employees and other costs.

There is a great variation in hourly rate according to the type of work and the geographic area.

The survey questionnaires were mailed in January to 22,703 Illinois lawyers. Usable responses came from 8,667 (38 per cent).

The survey was conducted by the Survey Research Laboratory at the University of Illinois under ISBA sponsorship.

Cooperation was extended by the Justices of the Illinois Supreme Court, the Chicago Bar Association and the Illinois Institute for Continuing Legal Education.

Talent search being resumed

After several months of relative inactivity in employment opportunities, business and industry is again searching college campuses for prospective employees, according to David Van Horn, director of SIUE University Placement Services.

During November, representatives from 17 companies and agencies will interview job applicants at SIUE. It will be the first such talent search at the university since last April, when 14 industries interviewed students looking for employment.

Persons seeking employment must register with University Placement Services to schedule an appointment with the interviewers, Van Horn said.

GREETING BISHOP. Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Hennrich, left, talk with the Most Rev. Joseph A. McNicholas, bishop of the Springfield diocese, during a visit to Sacred Heart Catholic Church.

Bishop visits Sacred Heart

The Most Rev. Joseph A. McNicholas, new bishop of the Diocese of Springfield in Illinois, celebrated a public mass at Sacred Heart Church last week.

The mass was attended by approximately 500 persons, primarily Sacred Heart parishioners. In his address, Bishop McNicholas said he is dedicating his first year as bishop of the Springfield diocese to visiting all the parishes in the 28 counties comprising the diocese, so that he might personally meet with the pastors, religious and laity of these parishes.

In commenting on the evidence today of the lack of Christian morality in the United States and the world, he emphasized that whatever it tries, "the human heart is only satisfied with God." He praised Sacred Heart's pastor, Father James P. Hill, for "his priestly zeal and ambitious plans for the spiritual and temporal welfare of the parish and the school." In closing, the bishop asked for the support and prayers of all people that he succeed as their bishop in the job assigned to him.

Following the mass, Bishop McNicholas met with parishioners at a reception in the school auditorium. He later attended a dinner at the rectory. The following day the bishop celebrated a 10:30 a.m. mass at St. Boniface Church, Edwardsville, and a 4:30 p.m. mass at Mount Grace Convent (Pink Sisters). This week he is participating in a Notre Dame Retreat at South Bend, Ind.

Shower fetes Beverly Edwards

Clusters of pink roses and lily of the valley encircled white candles as the table centerpiece and pink bells were arranged on streamers for the bridal shower last week at the Moose Lodge hall honoring Miss Beverly Dianne Edwards.

Large pink and white ruffled umbrellas used with miniature parasols as guest favors completed the party decor.

Hosting the event were the bridesmaids, Mrs. Kathy Frazier, Mrs. Janice Valle, a sister of the bride-elect, Miss Terri Hawkins, the bride-to-be's cousin, Marianne Morrison, Miss Robin Minkus and Mrs. Janet Moore, a niece and sister of the prospective groom. Assisting the hostesses was Mrs. Rose Halbert, the honoree's grandmother.

Games were played and prizes were awarded, followed by the bride-elect opening her gifts.

The buffet table, also decorated in pink and white, was centered with a bridal cake, which had been baked with a thimble encircled.

Following tradition, the top tier of the cake was served to the unmarried guests, with Miss Terri Speraneo, a cousin of the groom-elect, receiving the slice.

Pottery demonstration for cubs

A demonstration by David Lehn on making pottery highlighted the October meeting of Cub Pack 24 held in Johnson School cafeteria.

Lehn reported a pottery class for parents and children will be starting soon and transportation can be arranged if needed.

Den 2 led by Caroline Glass and assisted by Debbie Dickerson were in charge of the opening ceremony.

Cubmaster Richard Howard welcomed the parents and Cub Scouts and a skit was presented by Den 1, under the direction Karen Copper.

Den 2 received awards from Mrs. Caroline Glass. The recipients were: Marty Pulley, denner; Paul Glass, assistant denner and Bobcat badge; and Ronald Blake, Howard Lynch and Robbie Cuvar, Bobcat badges.

Maroon team contains GC South, 24-0

Like the heavy rain that pelted the gridiron Friday night at Granite City Stadium, the Belleville West Maroon defense pounded away at GCHS South's offensive efforts, allowing the Warriors to cross midfield just once.

West's offense flooded the field with 313 yards rushing and 19 yards in the air as the visitors beat South High 24-0.

South was limited to 63 yards on the ground, and 25 yards in the air on two completions in 11 attempts by quarterback Bryan Bunjan.

Mistakes enabled West to score in each of the first three periods for 24, 10 and 24-0 quarter leads. South lost three of its five fumbles.

The Warriors were penalized just once in the contest, five yards, but it proved to be a costly penalty.

"We had them stopped cold on downs," said South Coach Stan Wojcik, "and then our only penalty in the game led to a score."

West had fallen on a fumbled ball with 10:39 left in the first quarter at South's 25. A three-yard run, two incomplete aerials and Joe Ward's tackle of Maroon Dave Robinson behind the line gave the Warriors the ball on South's 26.

On South's first play, the ball was jarred loose at the line and scooted to the Warrior's 41 where a West player fell on it.

The offense penalty later gave West a first down at the 13. Maroon Doug Dobbs kicked the ball through the uprights from 27 yards out for a 3-0 West lead.

With less than a minute remaining in the first period, South invaded Maroon territory after taking the kickoff at its 20. A 15-yard penalty aided South's drive, and Frank Baranica dashed to West's 48.

A punt by Bunjan was blocked and picked up by Steve Yates, who returned it to South's 25 as the quarter ended. West's possession ended on a 17-yard field goal attempt by Dobbs which failed.

Following a Warrior punt to West's 48, which was returned to South's 43, Robinson took a handoff from Jim Bedwell. The ball carrier started through the middle of the line, changed to his right, and then turned downfield, with Warrior Mike Clark in pursuit. He outdistanced Clark, going all the way to the goal. Dobbs' extra point boot gave the Maroons a 10-0 margin.

Maroon Rich Hunter took a punt at his 20-yard line and ran it back 37 yards before being knocked out of bounds by Bunjan, the lone defender between the runner and South's end zone.

South's defense rose to the occasion, holding West to six yards in three plays, forcing a punt to the Warrior 17.

Following a three-yard loss, South attempted a halfback option pass from Alan Benko to Ward, a play that has resulted this season in three TD's for the Warriors. But Joey Caravia stepped in for an interception.

The Maroons, following a punt by Bedwell to score from the 19, 10 and five, were at the one-yard-line when the half ended.

"We were still in the game going into the third quarter," remarked Warrior Coach Stan Wojcik, "but then all heck broke loose."

A Warrior fumble was recovered by West's 19, left in the third quarter at the South 20.

South's defense forced the Maroons to work hard after ground gains. But West gained 18 yards in six carries and Bedwell ran across from the line to give the Warriors the ball on South's 26.

On South's first play, the ball was jarred loose at the line and scooted to the Warrior's 41 where a West player fell on it.

The offense penalty later gave West a first down at the 13. Maroon Doug Dobbs kicked the ball through the uprights from 27 yards out for a 3-0 West lead.

With less than a minute remaining in the first period, South invaded Maroon territory after taking the kickoff at its 20. A 15-yard penalty aided South's drive, and Frank Baranica dashed to West's 48.

A punt by Bunjan was blocked and picked up by Steve Yates, who returned it to South's 25 as the quarter ended. West's possession ended on a 17-yard field goal attempt by Dobbs which failed.

Following a Warrior punt to West's 48, which was returned to South's 43, Robinson took a handoff from Jim Bedwell. The ball carrier started through the middle of the line, changed to his right, and then turned downfield, with Warrior Mike Clark in pursuit. He outdistanced Clark, going all the way to the goal. DeSmet chisels South's state hopes, 21-0

As a bone-chilling wind Saturday afternoon at DeSmet High School in Missouri whipped across the Spartans football field, Steeler fans sat huddled in the bleachers hoping for another close and exciting game like last year's 20-25 contest.

But DeSmet garnered 11 first downs to North's four and won 21-0 over GCHS North.

The Spartans rolled to 274 yards rushing while holding the Stealers to a total of 25 yards, 13 earned by Bruce Jaffe.

Quarterback Greg Corey completed 11 of 20 aerials for 93 yards, but the Steeler offense and defense was hampered without Senior David Kwiatkowski on the field.

A tightend and linebacker who consistently helped North gain ground with "clutch" plays at crucial moments, Kwiatkowski sat on the sidelines with a cast on his leg.

DeSmet jumped to a 7-0 first quarter lead and had a 14-0 margin at halftime. The Spartans did not score again until the final period.

The outcome ended North hopes of going to the state Class A football playoffs, a second year in succession; an 80 per cent winning record is now impossible for the 5-2-1 squad prior to Nov. 1.

One fan commented Saturday, "I don't know if Kwiatkowski's absence had a bearing on the game or not, but Fred Clay did a good defensive job in his spot."

Kwiatkowski suffered leg injuries several weeks ago and was injured again last week in North's 14-14 tie with Belleville Alhaff.

With 1:28 left in the first period, North gained only three yards in three attempts and had to kick it away to DeSmet at the Steeler 40.

Spartan Tim Hornoff broke the ice on the next play with a 40-yard run into the end zone. Mike Sullivan's foot provided the extra point.

Clay, 170-pound senior defensive end, set the Steeler defensive pace in the second period when a north fourth-down punt to DeSmet's 42 was taken by Ken Klein. Clay tackled him at the 44 and then fell on the ball after it was jarred out of the Spartan's hands.

In the ensuing series of North downs, the Stealers again had to punt to Klein at DeSmet's seven-yard-line. Clay stopped Klein at the 10 on the runback.

Three plays later DeSmet, aided by a 40-yard run by Mark Caspullo, reached the Steeler 40 and then moved to the 27 in two more downs.

A penalty spotted the ball half the distance to the goal and Hornoff carried it 13 yards for his second TD of the game. Sullivan's boot made it 14-0 with 7:43 left in the half.

Three minutes later, Hornoff capped a 48-yard Spartan drive with a TD spring but a flag on the play nullified the effort.

A fumble was downed at the Steeler 25 by Mike Sullivan 41 seconds left in the third quarter, and two plays later DeSmet was at North's 16 as the second half period began.

Hornoff ran nine yards, and Ken Klein carried twice before plunging into the end zone from the four with 10:24 left in the game. Sullivan's extra-point boot was good.

The contest ended with North bogged down at its own 11. The victory was DeSmet's fourth straight shutout.

Steelers, Kahoks in scoreless tie

Defense was the "name of the game" Thursday at Steelers field when GCHS North's soccer Steelers played Collinsville to a scoreless tie after two, five-minute overtime periods failed to produce a victor.

The Steeler defense allowed only seven shots on-goal.

North Goalkeeper Rick Demaree, nursing a sore leg, prevented six Collinsville shots from scoring, including what would have been a game-winning power shot off the foot of Kahok Rick Locandaro in the second overtime period.

The Collinsville player squared-off in front of Demaree, booting the ball into the air in an attempt to send it into the net with a shot just under the crossbar.

Demaree kept high to his left, tipping the ball up over the bar and back behind the net.

North sides had many opportunities to score, said North's Bob Kehoe, "but good judgment on shots was hindered due to strong winds."

Collinsville Goalkeeper Bill Swip was also credited with saving a possible game-winning shot by North's three tie games were against GCHS South, St. Paul of Highland, and Collinsville.

Steelers Greg Ely took a pass from Tony Cardin and attempted a powerful shot from an angle to the left from Swip. The Kahok goalie jumped in front of the ball, taking the impact in his stomach which left him breathless. The contest was delayed until Swip recovered.

North took 10 shots at the enemy's net, many of which were made by defensive players Kevin Marcus and Dave Goodyear who took the ball away from Collinsville at tacklers and moved swiftly downfield.

Fouls were numerous. North had 23 and Collinsville 20.

"The game never got out of hand though," noted Kehoe. "That many fouls makes it sound like the players were knocking each other down, but it wasn't like that at all."

"The majority were common fouls like charging from the wrong angle, and unavoidable ones which occur when there is close contact between players who are struggling for possession of the ball."

The deadlock left the Stealers with a 10-9-3 season record going into the sub-sectional competition. North's three tie games were against GCHS South, St. Paul of Highland, and Collinsville.

Madison took the punt at its own 31 and had marched downfield to the Knight 19 when the final quarter began.

Following a seven-yard run by Curtis Bradley, Quarterback Mike Woods dashed the punt into the end zone. A go-ahead two-point run failed.

Trojan Alfred Crawford recovered a Knight fumble at Mater Dei's 26 after the visitors had moved 11 yards. Runs by Chiller and Pete Pecurka moved the ball closer to the goal and on fourth down Chiller executed a 16-yard halfback pass to Dalred Haynes for a 12-6 Madison lead with eight minutes left to play.

Haynes then caught a two-point conversion pass from Woods and MHS led 14-6. Mar Dei downed Madison's kick at the Knight 29 and, aided by a 15-yard Madison penalty, moved into Trojan territory to the eight.

A fumble on the snap from center was recovered by Trojan Mike Terrell, giving Madison the ball at its eight-yard-line with 4:41 remaining. Chiller, who had 204 yards rushing on 11 carries, took a handoff from Woods and ran 92

Madison rally defeats Mater Dei by 20-12

Trojan Coach Al Vander Haar's game-winning formula, when trailing 6-0 in the final period of play, is "hit them with everything you have and hope it's enough to get the job done."

Madison High's football team put a fourth-period effort together Saturday afternoon, scoring three touchdowns and a two-point conversion to defeat the Knights of Breese Mater Dei, 20-12, at the Trojan field.

Mater Dei took a 6-0 lead in the second quarter, and held onto that margin until the final quarter.

Midway through the third period, after Mater Dei was held on downs and had to punt from Madison's 49 to the Trojan 24, Dwight Chiller rambled 62 yards on the first play after receiving the punt.

But a Madison fumble at the 19 gave the Knights possession, Mater Dei eventually had to kick it away.

Mater Dei marched from its 34 to Madison's 12 on three consecutive pass plays. Tom Gonsalves then connected on an aerial to Don Nowakowski in the end zone.

The Knights threatened to score again with 22 seconds left. Following the Knight TD, Madison had failed to move past its 42 and punted to Mater Dei's 38.

Gonsalves released a 35-yard aerial to Roger Becker in Madison's end zone, but Trojan Mike Terrell got his second interception by stepping in front of the receiver. The game ended with Madison at its own 20-yard-line.

Madison was able to pick up only three first downs in the contest, compared to the opponents' 19.

Madison had 250 yards rushing to the Knights' 93, and Woods completed three passes in six attempts, all in Haynes, for 29 yards. The Knights hit 13 of 22 for 187 yards in the air.

Only a freshman, but Heard making big football 'noise'

Madison High School football coaches graced last year at the thought of losing Trojan Joe Young through graduation after the senior player rushed for more than 1,000 yards and scored eight touchdowns in Madison's nine-game varsity schedule.

"Not many coaches are blessed with having such a versatile athlete as Young on a squad," Trojan mentor Al Vander Haar once remarked, "and it is going to be difficult in finding someone to fill his shoes."

But the search for another "Joe Young" for Madison's gridiron squad ended this fall with Freshman James Heard enrolling at the school.

"Heard is going to be a super-athlete who may even surpass the performances by Young," remarks Nick Jack, Madison's freshman coach.

Now in his first year of playing school football—Madison Junior High does not have a football program—Heard at 5-9 and 175 pounds, has sprung out of the freshman team's "wilderness" formation for more than 200 yards rushing in six of the school's seven games thus far, topping the 1,000-yard mark in a single season.

Cited as an all-around player by Jack, he has scored many touchdowns, including two this month in Madison's 22-0 victory over DuPont, and two Thursday in a shutout win over Alto Central, 32-0. The latter TDs were on runs of 52 and 63 yards.

As an eighth grade track star, Heard ran the 100-yard dash in 10.9 seconds, and now runs 40 yards as a football player in 4.7 seconds.

"He had been playing two and three times a week," notes Jack, "competing on the freshman sophomore and varsity levels."

"But we had to cut back on his activities to allow a dislocated thumb to heal properly."

In varsity action, he carried the ball twice for 58 yards and scored a TD in Madison's 24-1 victory over Columbia after being on the receiving end of a 34-yard pass from Quarterback Mike Woods.

"His speed," comments Jack, "enables us to execute the end sweep with near perfection against opponents. Very seldom has he been stopped, instead outrunning the defenders."

The potential future star of Madison's varsity squad keeps in physical shape the year around by participating in self-instructed weightlifting exercises at home and hills.

Since the Trojans have only four sophomores playing football this season, Heard joins Nick Pecunia and Tom Leonard in the sophomore squad's backfield also.

They will see action today against Alto Marquette, and then return to the freshman team on Thursday for a season-ending contest at home against Alto West Junior High.

Heard and his teammates have helped Madison, thus far, to a 4-1 record.

Girls in field hockey sub-sectional tourney

Both GCHS North and South will compete this week in a field hockey sub-sectional meet at Mascoutah in an effort to advance to sectional competition Nov. 7 at Edwardsville, as the first Illinois High School Association girls' field hockey state series begins.

Competition at Mascoutah starts tomorrow at 4 p.m.; with the hosts playing South High, and resumes Wednesday at 4 p.m. with North High playing Okawville.

Oak Park repeats as state champ

Oak Park-River Forest, coached by Joyce Carlson, captured team honors for the fourth straight year Saturday during Illinois High School Association girls' state tennis competition played at Arlington Heights near Chicago.

Pacing Oak Park to victory was Suzie Kiegle. It was her third singles championship in four years; she had won in 1972 and again last year. In 1973, she placed second to Northfield's Sue Graham.

GCHS South district singles champion, Robin Deterding, defeated her opponent, Ill. foe 6-4, 6-2 in first-round action, but then was eliminated from competing further by a 6-7, 1-6 loss to a Juliet West High School player.

Victors will meet at 4 p.m. Thursday, with the winner advancing to the sectional.

The Edwardsville tournament winner will advance to the state meet Nov. 14-15 at Northfield (West Tier West) High School.

During regular season competition, GCHS South, with a 4-2 record, has defeated North High twice, 3-1 and 4-3, and Okawville once, 3-0. North High, 1-4, has downed Okawville 4-3 and lost to Mascoutah 5-1.

North harriers advance to state meet, South is 7th

The Granite City High School North harriers ran to victory Saturday on the three-mile cross-country course at Springfield's Lincoln Park, earning a low of 69 points to capture first place in the Illinois High School Association sectional competition there.

Springfield Lamphier was second with 72, and Alto third with 85. GCHS South was seventh with 154 points.

Of 15 schools competing at Springfield, the first three teams, including North, and the top 10 individual runners advance to the state finals Saturday, Nov. 1 at Peoria (Central).

The state meet will be conducted over three miles at scenic Detweiler Park on the north edge of the city.

They will be joined by the top two teams and top 10 individuals from the Chicago Public League qualifying meet.

Pacing the field at Springfield Saturday were Alto's Randy Adler, first in 15:28, and Steeler Mike Baker, second in 15:37.

The times of both runners were better than the previous course record there. North High's Dave Futch, 5th, was eight seconds off the old mark with a time of 15:53.

Futch, who placed third last week in the Edwardsville district, "has been the club runner for the past three weeks for the Steelers," says North's Pete Robinson.

"His consistent finishing positions in the top 10 has contributed a lot to the overall team effort."

Contributing also to GCHS North's team effort at Springfield were: Dave Ebrecht, 16th, John Bracamonte 23rd, Don Lacy 31st, Greg Stout 44th and Robin Tegel 52nd.

Only two other area runners earned the right to advance to the state meet by finishing among the top 10—Highland's Carl Stroobjohn 59th, and St. Paul of Highland's Mark Capelle, eighth.

GCHS South's Frank Holmes toured the course in 16:08 for an 11th place finish, the best time of any Warrior harrier there. Competing also for South were: Glen Ahlers 33rd, Don Meagher 37th, Randy Presswood 39th, Ken Meagher 55th, Russ Presswood 60th, and Mike Cothran 70th.

Bethel Chapel scene of Greiner-Trucks wedding

Miss Susan Elaine Trucks, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde A. Trucks, 106 W. Washington, Caseyville, and Todd G. Greiner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Morris Greiner, of O'Fallon, Ill., were united in marriage Friday evening at Bethel Chapel Pentecostal Church in Granite City.

The Rev. Clifton Galibier officiated at the 7:30 candlelight ceremony before an altar adorned with bouquets of blossoms in autumn colors.

Organist Don Stewart accompanied the soloist, Debbie Rich, who sang "Wedding Song," "A Time For Us" and "Wedding Candle Song."

Escorted down the white carpeted aisle and given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a long white organza gown made in empire style.

Sequined scalloped lace accented the high collar and the cuffs of the long sheer sleeves and formed a panel on the bodice, extending down the skirt front. A tiny satin bow marked the high rise waistline. Matching lace bordered the detachable train and the mantilla veil of bridal illusion.

She carried a cascade of gardenias, apricot-colored carnations and baby's breath.

Maid of honor Miss Nancy Johnson chose a rust A-line polyester A-line dress designed with a high neckline and full bishop sleeves.

The bridesmaids, Misses Kathy Johnson, Jeanette Laswell and Vicki Johnson, were attired in matching gowns in apricot color.

They wore ivory picture hats and carried colonial bouquets of fall flowers.

Dorinda Stewart, flower girl, wore a frock identical in style to the adult attendants dresses. Phillip Baldwin was the ringbearer.

The groom chose Gary Lickenbrock as his best man. Gary Anderson, David Vollmer, the groom's brother-in-law, Clyde Trucks Jr., a brother of the bride, Barry Gardner and Mark Rea completed the corps of groomsmen and ushers.

Candlelighters were Miss Luena Keeton and Miss Valerie Tripp.

Guests were received by the newly married couple at a reception held in the Tri-City Park Tabernacle fellowship hall.

Mr. and Mrs. Greiner, parents of the groom, hosted a rehearsal dinner on Thursday evening at Bill Burn's Cafeteria.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Trucks chose an A-line gown in light blue. The groom's mother appeared in a long blue cotton dress. Both wore apricot colored carnation corsages.

Miss Marsha Frost presided over the guest book.

Preceding her marriage, the bride was employed as a secretary-bookkeeper at the Christian Bookstore in Fairview Heights.

The groom is serving as pastor at the United Methodist Church in Crest Springs, Ill., where the couple will reside after a wedding trip to Memphis, Tenn.

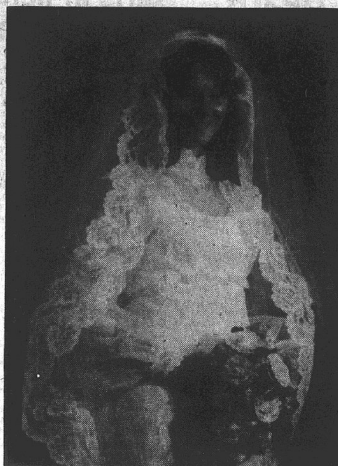

Among the out-of-town guests was Mrs. Ivy Greiner, the groom's grandmother, from South Carolina.

PINOCCHLE CLUB PLANS CHRISTMAS PARTY

Those winning prizes in the games were Mesdames Sue Busch, Clara Winter, Lucille Broyles, Barbara Stout and Helen Krakowicki.

A dessert luncheon was served by the hostess to the prize winners and to Evelyn Ferro, Mary Mang, Helen Love and Lisa Bauer. Mrs. Winter will host the November meeting.

School for New Life courses available at GC military base

An unusual "School for New Life" will open to Granite City area residents Nov. 4, when Dr. L. Jim Anthia begins teaching two courses — Parent Effectiveness Training (P.E.T.) — and Transactional Analysis (T.A.).

Parent Effectiveness Training, a basic course in how to raise responsible children, is a nationwide program to give parents skill for their hardest job — parenthood.

The class will meet on eight consecutive Tuesday evenings from 7:30 to 10 in the fellowship hall of the chapel at the Granite City Army Installation.

The course is open to all fathers, mothers and adults working with children who desire a more open, honest and responsive relationship between adult and child.

Dr. Anthia, an accredited and licensed instructor of P.E.T., open to that in less than 24 hours of study a parent can learn "how to settle conflict, stop power struggles, foster independence, improve school work, understand their children, be heard, know love, have fun and enjoy their adult life, even though parents."

Parent Effectiveness Training develops methods of active listening, presenting "I" messages in a non-threatening way, and solving conflict in a no-lose method, he noted.

The cost for the P.E.T. program is $80 for the eight weeks, which includes the course text, "Parent Effectiveness Training," by Dr. Thomas Gordon, a workbook and other materials.

Thursday evenings at 7:30 starting Nov. 6, at the Army base chapel, Dr. Anthia, an associate member of the International Transactional Analysis Association, will offer an Introductory Transactional Analysis course.

T.A. is made famous by the books, "I'm OK - You're OK" and "Born To Win," is a popular psychology that helps move from "destructive losing patterns of life" into "positive or winning patterns," Dr. Anthia said.

The course is built on an educational model that looks at the popular concepts that help people see themselves and how they interact with others, how this affects their usage of time, and their manipulation of other people, he explained.

TA helps understand life styles, so that they can turn to styles that are constructive, rewarding, and "OK."

"The T. A. course is not a therapy group model, but an educational model."

"It will help those who have found old patterns unproductive and who desire to deepen their potential and to discover new possibilities for their life and to evaluate their life direction," he added.

The cost of the six-week course is $30.

Both courses are being sponsored by the Military Education Program and are open to the public. Further information may be obtained from Dr. Anthia at 422-7519, or the Continuing Education Office of the Army Installation at 1-314-269-5559.

Civilians to patrol on Halloween night

Civilian volunteer patrols, serving as "the eyes and ears" of the Madison County Sheriff's Department, will drive through the unincorporated areas of the county Halloween night to attempt to hold down vandalism.

Several neighborhood groups, Explorer posts and citizens' band radio groups are cooperating with Sheriff John Maeras to establish the patrols.

Maeras emphasized, "The citizens will not act as police officers or attempt to enforce laws, but will advise the sheriff's department of any violations which they observe."

Many will be in cars with citizens' band radios which will be in touch with the command post which will relay information directly to the sheriff's department.

Deputies then will be dispatched to the scenes of trouble, arriving within minutes of when the observers notice suspicious activities.

Maeras said the volunteers will be identified by an orange armband with the words, "Operation Trick or Treat" on it.

The sheriff said the patrols are the result of an experiment conducted by Maeras last Halloween when the first such patrols were used to help curb a growing Halloween vandalism problem.

"Results of the 1974 operation indicated a substantial reduction of vandalism in Madison County and the success of the project prompted a renewal of the operation this year," Maeras said.

Citizens who would like to volunteer to participate are invited to contact the sheriff's department at 1-602-4433, he added.

PROPOSED COUNTY JAIL for Madison County as seen in a sketch by the building's architect, Henry Gabriels of Granite City. Bonds have been sold for $4 million to finance the jail, which is being designed for construction in downtown Edwardsville. Madison County Board members have indicated they hope to construct the jail for about $3.5 million but there have been warnings at recent County Board meetings that the cost might actually exceed the available funds, and that additional means of financing may need to be found.

THE SCHERMER BULLETIN
It's a small world. After traveling 4500 miles to the Canary Islands, Avery reports that on the island of Tenerife, a lady on the Shrine Tour came up and introduced herself inquiring, "Are you the Schermers with the Supermarket in Madison?" I'm Mrs. — from Charleston, Illinois."

Assuring her that we were one and the same we inquired as to how she knew Schermers Bros. She informed us that she has a relative living in Madison who has told her "all about Schermers Bros."

We told her that we hoped what she heard was good and she replied, "Oh yes." "We know about your fine store, the good prices, and especially how nice you all are to your customers." We learned her relative (believe the name was Granger) especially enjoyed being recognized when she came in, and of course we were delighted to hear this.

Schermers Bros. is more than just a good place to shop. It's a place where the customers are really individuals and we are glad to take the time to inquire as to health, vacations, children, or other topics of interest. We know who the fishermen are, who the hunters are, who does their "thing" with boats, water skis, etc., etc.

WE REALLY CARE!

St. Bartholomew statue dedicated

A new statue of St. Bartholomew the Apostle was blessed and dedicated at St. Bartholomew Episcopal Church, 2200 Grand Ave., during the 10:30 a.m. family eucharist services at the church last week.

The figure, which stands about 36 inches in height, is a memorial to Eugene and Martha Hayes of Chicago. The sculpture was presented to the parish by their daughter, Miss Lucy Hayes of Belleville. Hand carved in Italy following a design by the Rev. Wilbur L. Lear, St. Bartholomew's pastor, the statue was obtained through the Vanpoules Church Furnishers of England.

After the dedication service, Miss Hayes hosted a luncheon at Charlie's Restaurant for out-of-town guests who attended the mass and blessing of the new figure.

Among those present at the luncheon were Mr. and Mrs. Fred Larsen and daughters, Mr. and Mrs. Eldon Beerholm, Miss Ethel Shelar, Miss Dorothy Piper and Miss Ruth Burr, all of Chicago; Mr. and Mrs. Walter Payne and Miss Hayes, all of Belleville; and the Rev. Lear.

Mrs. Burdine Holtzner presided at the meeting and announced new articles to be featured at the bazaar, include Scottish tartans, woolen scarfs, patchwork pillows, painted glass, tinware, house plants, macrame hangers and collector dolls.

Sandwiches, salads and pies will be served during the event, which begins at 11 a.m. Nov. 1. A collection was taken for the Church Women United's project, "Water for Women." The yearbook of prayer was given by Mrs. Helen Steele and a study of missions was presented by Mrs. Holtzner.

Medical checkups vital for seniors, nurse tells club

General health care of persons over the age of 50, including the proper nutritional diet and prevention of falls, was the subject of Mrs. Donna Dionea, a registered nurse, who spoke last week to 40 members of the Jolly 60's Senior Citizens Club at Grace Baptist Church, 3600 Edwards St.

The guest speaker who holds a bachelor's degree in psychology, is the wife of Dr. Frank Dionea, local physician and surgeon. She stressed the importance of persons over 50 seeking medical attention each year to help avoid major health problems.

An open discussion period with Mrs. Dionea answering questions followed the talk. The Jolly 60's Club meets each Wednesday at 10 a.m. in the Grace Baptist Church fellowship hall, with a potluck luncheon served at the noon hour.

The program is open to all interested persons, regardless of church affiliation or age. Transportation to the meetings may be arranged for those calling 877-6672, church officers said.

GCS Women stage barnyard revue

Barnyard Frolic was the theme for the annual "Bosses Night" party of the Granite City Steel Women's Association, which featured a fried chicken dinner and a "Hee Haw"-style revue.

Staged in a barnyard setting with appropriate farm props and costumes, the revue was highlighted with square and tap dancing, jokes from a "cornfield" singing, whistling, sign-carrying and the reading of a poem, "The Passing of the Buck House" by James Whitcomb Riley, delivered by Dick Lange.

Wanda MacDonough served as dinner chairman and will be presented a dozen red roses from her committee, consisting of Ramona Burnett, Gwen Taylor, June Nikonovich and Norman Jones. The latter directed and stage-managed the comedy sequences.

Red and white checked cloths covered the dinner tables, and glass "pigs" filled with popcorn and quart jars holding colorful fall leaves were the centerpieces. Small black ceramic flatirons decorated with artificial flowers and used as toothpick holders were given as individual favors.

After dinner music was provided by a band led by Howard Bolton, an employee of the blast furnace sintering plant. Other musicians were Charles Collins, Ralph Mathis, Herschel Cassy and Sandy Fornasewski.

MOUNTING TRAFFIC USE is projected on each of the three routes studied by engineers to determine the most feasible location of an overpass connecting downtown Granite City and West Granite City. While a site for the overpass on either Niedringhaus Avenue, Nineteenth Street or Twentieth Street has not been finally selected, all engineering factors point to Nineteenth as the most likely location. Traffic projections on the three streets during the next 20-year period, shown in this drawing, anticipate increases of nearly 100 per cent, except on Niedringhaus where the 20-year projection is for a 320 per cent rise.

Blessing by village officials for new 'health' business?

An article on this page Thursday noted that people often react to a topic by the words used to describe it. "Lobbying" is bad but "citizen participation by public interest organizations" is good. "Junkies" are assailed but perhaps not if regarded as "fact-finding trips to find answers to tough problems." "Loopholes" are evil but not if viewed as "reforms."

Terminology also plays a role in standards of individual conduct. Young women who wouldn't have considered becoming strip-teasers were willing to become gogo dancers, duplicating on a platform the same steps utilized in their social-approved dancing with partners. It was much later that the fad changed and some of the dancers began to outdo the teasers.

Another Press-Record article Thursday, on the front page, described a new Pontoon Beach enterprise involving dimly-lit rooms, each with a mattress on the floor and a stack of towels. In the hallway was a stack of dirty shoes. Money changed hands, and services were provided by scantily-clad young women. Municipal officials termed it a health spa or massage parlor and issued a $25 village license.

At one time, firms operating with such ingredients had been looked on askance. Instead, a more or less formal blessing has been bestowed by village officials, who indicate that they don't regard comments from citizens as "official" contacts that could prompt them to look into the matter.

The massage phenomenon began proliferating across the nation several years ago and more than two dozen establishments currently are operating in the usually staid St. Louis region.

A Madison enterprise has been mentioned frequently in this newspaper, which initially disclosed its existence. It subsequently was closed by city officials in June 1973 due to failure to file an "assumed names" document listing names of persons owning the business. It remained closed for part of that summer after the city passed an ordinance controlling health spas and requiring extensive recreation equipment and other facilities, including a shower room.

It reopened after meeting these requirements. Madison aldermen in January 1974 adopted further regulations calling for each masseur and masseuse to pay a $75 annual license fee, show proof that he or she has studied physiotherapy for 12 semester hours, pass a written examination given by the city clerk and provide a photo, physical examination report and character references. Fines of up to $500 a day for violations were authorized.

A raid took place in Madison Oct. 8, 1974, with charges including performing indecent massage and engaging in the activity of a masseuse without a license.

Pontoon Beach officials may have noted that Madison operations continue despite the occurrences cited. Whether this is a factor in their laissez-faire attitude is unknown; perhaps they view it either as not a problem, or as a problem too difficult to remedy.

In any case, the village has seen fit to devote far less of its official deliberations to the subject of health club regulation, despite past business ties between the owner of the building and a village officer.

Increased enthusiasm for United Way tasks is being urged

Tri-Cities Area United Way officials' comment—Our United Way campaign is in serious trouble; solicitations have not been made or completed on many accounts.

Special effort is needed to solicit all assigned accounts promptly. Attention also needs to be given to insure fair-share giving.

Results need to be turned in to the United Way office, and those needing assistance in completing their tasks are invited to contact the group leader, division chairman or United Way office.

The target goal was met and surpassed in each of the immediate past two annual campaigns. We must not allow ourselves to fail in 1975. Sincere effort and enthusiasm can assure success, so that operating funds can be provided for member agencies throughout 1976.

Refuse fires bother ailing residents

To the Editor:

I would like to voice disapproval of giving Granite City Steel an extension of the Environmental Protection Act Title IX variance.

Aside from industrial noise and pollution, another problem is the supposed leak burning that has been going on all summer long in our city. The truth of the matter is that we have people burning refuse.

Leaves burned in the morning and late at night create smoke that we are forced to inhale. It is harmful, causing sore throats and eye problems. EPA people tell us that this type of burning creates carbon monoxide, sulfur dioxide and particulates that are harmful to health.

We thought city officials would stop this but they say there is nothing they can do. My husband lost a step to cancer and suffers repeated congestion in the left lung. This year, he has been hospitalized several times.

We were forced to put an electronic air cleaner in our home, central air-conditioning and a large tank of oxygen. Our expense has been tremendous.

He is on a disability pension. I think as a result of air pollution. In behalf of my husband and other people in this area who are suffering from health problems, I ask that a stop be put to the things that aggravate such conditions.

WOMAN RESIDENT

Link welfare with willingness to work

To the Editor:

As governor, I would restore fiscal sanity and not show disrespect for taxpayers' dollars by hiring ghost workers to run my political campaign.

I would not shake down state employees for contributions to political funds.

I would save money by obeying the laws that require competitive bidding prior to letting road contracts. I would pay my own campaign expenses and not be obligated to road contractors and other special interest groups.

I would completely overhaul the state welfare system so that people who are willing to work for a living will live better than those who won't.

Prospective welfare recipients would first have to apply to a state employment office and agree to accept any available job for which they are physically or mentally qualified.

Three strikes and you're out—All aid would be cut off for illegitimate offspring after the first three. To "save the children," state orphanages would provide education and sustenance for neglected children.

The purpose of this policy would be to take the profit out of what has become the child welfare racket.

The state's immediate financial problems can be solved by short-term borrowing —from banks or other private lending institutions—provided for in the 1970 Illinois Constitution.

Gateway review is a key function

The term "A-95 Review" is the name of one of the East-West Gateway Coordinating Council's most important functions; a function that directly affects local governments throughout the region.

Explained in simple terms, A-95 review is the process by which the Gateway Council studies and evaluates all local government applications for federal assistance.

Its importance arises from the fact that, under present federal procedures, no municipal or county government can receive federal funds until an A-95 review has been completed.

For example, a small town in St. Clair County seeking federal funds for improved sewer facilities would have to first submit its application to Gateway.

The Gateway Council would then review the application and the sewer improvement proposal—to make certain it does not conflict with federal laws or local, state or regional comprehensive plans.

The application is reviewed by the Gateway Council staff, the executive advisory committee and the board of directors.

If approved and endorsed, it is forwarded to federal authorities, who grant the requested funds.

The same procedure applies to the largest municipalities and county governments in the region.

And it is not unique to greater St. Louis; regions throughout the country have agencies certified by the federal government to perform the A-95 review function.

Gateway Council has been the St. Louis region's certified A-95 review agency since 1969, when the process was established by the U.S. Office of Management and Budget.

Announced purpose of the process is to assure that federally-supported local projects will be consistent and coordinated with overall regional plans while not being evaluated only by representatives of the national government in Washington.

Certification as the regional A-95 review agency makes Gateway Council a clearinghouse for federal assistance applications.

In fulfilling this role, Gateway attempts to help local-level governments submit effective, successful applications for federal money.

The purpose of the A-95 review process is never to impede worthwhile applications or to prevent them from getting a fair hearing, but rather to increase the chances that applications will be properly prepared and quickly submitted.

Gateway Council officials say:

As part of its efforts to help governments throughout greater St. Louis obtain federal assistance for worthwhile projects, the Gateway Council prepares printed "Guidelines for Project Reviews."

Mass transportation study progressing

East-West Gateway Coordinating Council's current mass transit program is intended to:

1. Determine the need for transit service within the region; and
2. Analyze the various opportunities for transit service improvements that are available in the region, and determine which opportunities or improvements will be the most economical in the long run. Such improvements may include commuter rail and bus rapid transit.

3. Develop and carry out a community coordination-citizen participation program that will keep the public informed and provide opportunities for citizen recommendations and responses at key stages of the program.

Preliminary work on the mass transit program was undertaken earlier this year.

This work included: (1) an assessment of the need for transit in the region; (2) a description of work that will be done in order to determine how to best meet these needs; and (3) the groundwork for community coordination program.

The governing body of this program is the transit subcommittee of the Gateway Council board of directors, which also has representatives from the Bi-State Development Agency's board of directors.

A citizens' group, the Transit Action Committee, will work with the staff-consultant team and serve as a sounding board.

In addition, all proposals will be reviewed at key stages by the Regional Forum and its task forces.

At present, the transit subcommittee is in the process of selecting the consultants to complete this program.

A recommendation on the consultant firm or firms to do the work is expected to be made at the Oct. 29 meeting of the Gateway Council board of directors.

Work may begin before the first of the year. It is to be completed in about one year.

Port activities among Gateway concerns

The St. Louis metropolitan region is the largest port region on the Mississippi River's vast inland waterways system.

Waterborne commerce played a major role in the region's growth into one of the largest metropolitan communities in the nation, and it continues to be an important element in local economic life.

It is estimated that 18 million tons of cargo are loaded or unloaded within the boundaries of metropolitan St. Louis.

This huge volume of trade is the source of many jobs, and it stimulates many kinds of business activity.

In recent years, the volume of cargo carried by water has increased sharply on the Mississippi and Missouri Rivers.

Cities such as Memphis have experienced corresponding increases in port activity, have used federal assistance to develop new harbor and docking facilities, and have made a number of investments directly or indirectly dependent upon river commerce.

In comparison with these rival communities, the metropolitan St. Louis area has grown relatively slowly in annual tonnage handled.

One of the major reasons for this is lack of a systematic examination of the region's port needs and problems.

In 1973, the Gateway Council selected the firm of A. T. Kearney, Inc., to conduct the first phase of a study of the metropolitan port of St. Louis.

This first phase, financed with contributions from public and private sources, and completed in 1974, served a number of purposes.

Essentially a feasibility study, it provided information about the metropolitan port's role and function, existing port facilities in the region, present and potential markets, and possible restraints on growth.

It identified five ways in which waterborne commerce could provide increased jobs and economic activity in the region; among these ways were the development of a port promotion program and a regional port development plan.

Several agencies in the St. Louis area have assumed primary responsibility for the five steps proposed in the first phase study, with the Gateway Council accepting the job of developing a port development plan.

In September 1974, Gateway Council began to work with the U.S. Maritime Administration to obtain federal funding for a second phase of port development study.

The process of selecting a consultant to work on the second phase was under way by the beginning of 1975. A. T.

Kearney was chosen again in February of this year.

According to the timetable developed by the Gateway Council staff for the port development project, the beginning of the second phase of study during the spring of 1975 has made it possible for a complete profile of St. Louis ports and recommendations for improving operations to be completed by June 1976.

The last part of the two-phase study will be necessary to translate information provided by the earlier part of Phase II, plus Phase I, into a final and comprehensive port development plan.

It is expected that Gateway Council's port task force could take final action on such a plan by August 1976, and present a report for the approval of the board of directors one month later.

Perhaps most significantly, the Forum may be used by the bi-state community as a microphone to focus a public spotlight on the citizens' point of view with regard to community needs and priorities within a regional context.

Regional Forum—equal time for citizens

The Regional Forum was established by the East-West Gateway Coordinating Council at the request of its board of directors.

Its function is to provide a continuing opportunity for consideration of citizens' opinions on problems of the region.

For example, the Council reviews local applications for approximately 100 federally-funded programs (such as highways, mass transit, parks, water and sewers) before they can be sent to the appropriate funding agency.

Since the Gateway Council recommends approval of these applications, suggestions, modifications or rejections that the Regional Forum is in a position to reflect community attitudes concerning the goals and priorities of federally-funded programs in the region, and to interpret these attitudes to the Council's board of directors.

The Forum is a group of 27 citizens of varying background and geographical location including representatives of the black, business and labor communities, as well as religious and educational institutions.

The members of this Forum act as advisors to Gateway Council directors and, in that capacity, provide a direct link between citizens and decision-makers.

The Regional Forum has established three citizen task forces to deal with major areas of regional concern: environment, and transportation.

The Regional Forum has the advantage of direct communication with the board of directors of Gateway Council, which six Forum members serve as regional citizens on the board; all six have full voting privileges.

As a citizen-oriented group without partisan affiliation, the Forum and its task forces are in a unique position to openly discuss and recommend action on issues.

With guidance and support from citizens, the Forum attempts to bring public attention to the concerns and problems of citizens and assist local governments in making both physical and social improvements in area communities.

The Forum serves as a sounding board for ideas of widespread application. It also provides an arena for regional action.

Perhaps most significantly, the Forum may be used by the bi-state community as a microphone to focus a public spotlight on the citizens' point of view with regard to community needs and priorities within a regional context.

The Forum and its task forces also function to inform the region's citizenry of proposed Council plans through public meetings, seminars and hearings.

MADISON ZONING ISSUES involving requests for changes in the Madison zoning ordinance are heard by the Madison Planning and Zoning Board in hearings conducted prior to the City Council meeting. The board makes recommendations to the council which may or may not concur. The board reviews the petition for a zoning change as to its purpose, how the change will affect the neighborhood and the health, safety and environmental factors involved. In this meeting Tuesday night, Gerald Moss, in foreground at left, requested permission to fence in the property of his company, the Illinois Pacific Coast Transportation Co. In the

Business film strip shown to Optimists

A slide presentation "The Day Business Stood Still" was shown to the Granite City Optimist Club at its Thursday noon meeting held in the YMCA by G. H. Sternberg, program chairman.

The slide presentation frequently is shown to school groups to help overcome the theory many young people reportedly have that big business is unfair to people.

A report was made that the Camelot Auction had a gross sale of $5,000. A final report will be made after all bills are paid. The profits from the joint Rotary-Optimist venture will be divided equally between the two groups to be used for community projects.

Motor fuel tax allocations

Illinois municipalities have been allotted $9,543,999.84 as their share of motor fuel tax paid into the state treasury during September, according to the Illinois Department of Transportation.

Motor fuel tax funds are allocated monthly to the various municipalities in Illinois for their streets and highways. The monies allocated are computed on the basis of population.

Allocations to Quad-City area municipalities included $35,956 to Granite City, $6,223 to Madison and $4,136 to Venice. Counties in Illinois were allocated a total of $2,203,999. Madison County received $119,866.

The allotments to townships and road districts totaled $2,689,999, of which $32,884 went to townships in Madison County.

Candy sale to aid retarded

The sixth annual statewide campaign by the Knights of Columbus to raise funds for retarded children will be held Friday, Oct. 31, and Saturday, Nov. 1.

The KC members will give away Tootsie Rolls for contributions. Last year the Knights raised nearly $500,000 which was distributed to nearly 300 organizations devoted to assisting retarded children. In addition to providing needed care and direction for the mentally handicapped, funds collected purchased a mobile lead detection unit for the Illinois Association for Retarded Citizens. The instrument is instrumental in detecting lead poisoning, one of the recognized causes of mental retardation.

The local drive is being led by A. L. "Pete" Metcalf, deputy grand knight of Granite City Council 1098, assisted by Frank J. Kierski, local grand knight, and Dr. J. R. Vasiloff, regional activities chairman.

School security board topic

Discussion of plans to expand security in the Madison schools highlighted a special meeting of the Madison Board of Education Thursday night.

No action to hire more personnel for the security staff was taken, but the board did review the application of six persons interested in security jobs, according to John Palchek, superintendent of schools.

Palchek said the board will hold another meeting on security matters the latter part of this week. The board is trying to determine the number of people it will need and what their specific jobs will be.

In other action, the board set Thursday, Nov. 29, for bond sales, which are being handled by the Illinois School Consulting Service, Naperville, Ill.

Board members agreed to obtain a Moody investor rating which the board feels will enhance the sale of the bonds.

David Hodges, a social science teacher at MHS, was hired as assistant basketball coach in addition to his regular teaching duties. Hodges coached sophomore basketball last year.

Burglaries at two taverns and an attempted burglary at the Edgie's Lounge, 2900 Nameoki Road, at 6:50 a.m. Friday. Entry was gained by breaking a kitchen window.

Clips were searched and all coins were taken from the juke box and cigarette, baseball and bowling machines.

A burglar forced the rear door at the Ingleside Tavern, 23rd Street and Madison Avenue, Edgemoor, on Monday morning, 8:20 a.m. Friday. Drawers were ransacked and coins were taken from containers in the juke box and cigarette and bowling game machines. An inventory is being taken to determine if other items are missing.

An intruder probably was scared away by a dog from Bob's Tavern, 2100 Adams St., the owner, Bob Hudgens, reported at 8 a.m. Friday. A screen door and inside door at the rear of the building had been pried open.
